Dominant space in the apartment is large living room area with a fireplace, which together with dining room occupies around 50 m² of open space, with very high ceilings, which is why one can get even greater sense of spaciousness. Surrounded with windows on two sides, and also with several roof windows, this space is full of light. Modern kitchen is detached, equipped with all power appliances and it has small pantry for storage. Living room continues to a hallway, which lead toward two bedrooms. Larger bedroom has it's own bathroom with shower cabin and wardrobe, while restroom is separated. There are several fitted closets in a hallway which helps storage of household items. Wide and nice staircase leads from living area to an upper floor (gallery), where is one bedroom, bathroom with shower cabin and open space which could be used as study room. There are some slopes on ceilings in the bedroom, but they do not disturb functionality of space. Apartment is nicely arranged and enriched with a lighting.
